Závod Míru (Peace Race) U23

Peace Race

Remember this legendary multiple stages race connecting the three capitals, created just after WW2 (1948), in order to celebrate the Communist friendship between Poland, Czechoslovakia and the German Democratic Republic. The « Tour de France » behind the Iron Curtain during the Cold War. A few names left their mark on this epoch: Szurkowski, Danguillaume, Soukoroutchenkov, Olaf Ludwig, Uwe Ampler. The Friedensfahrt survived the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989, but without its ideological foundations, the race had a lot of difficulties and searched for new reasons to live in Western Europe. In vain. The dove finally died in 2006.

The Peace still exists today, but only as a race for young men. The Juniors run the race since 1974. The list of winners includes Menchov, Cancellara, Velits, Kreuziger or Kwiatkowski. In 2015 and 2016, Americans won it. Sign of the times? A race for Under23 is born in 2013, for rising from the ashes?

Závod Míru U23

The Peace Race for Under23 doesn't go out the Czech Republic. In 2016, the three stages were very hilly, with two uphill finishes: in Jeseník – Hotel Priessnitz (601m, in the 3rd stage) and Dlouhé stráně (1319m, in the 2nd). The last one has drawn our attention.
